+ Panel discussion

The main purpose of the panel is to initiate a discussion on the state of research on the applicability of formal methods (FM) in software engineering (SE) practice, typically in the industrial arena.

(Possible) topics:

- Is FM technology ready for application in (mainstream) SE practice?
- Are SE practitioners ready to use FM technology?
- Is it “just” a matter of education, or are there other, more important obstacles that need to be tackled before FM can be used routinely in SE practice?
- What steps should the research community take to make FM technology more amendable to SE practice?

+ See you next year in Austin, Texas!
